Old sol iers say that no army ever suffered so such in so short a time without reason as our troops around Santiago, and there is going to be a lot of inquiries and investigations and criminations and recriminations before we get through talking about it. They tell a story of a German-American quartermaster who belonged to a regiment which landed one night in a rain so heavy that it seemed as if the bottom had dropped out of the sky, without tents or blank ets or ponchos, or any form of shelter. Everybody seemed to think it was the martermaster's fault. The colonel overauled him, the lieutenant colonel gave aim a blowing up, the surgeon swore at im, and he got it on all sides from the hree majors and every captain in the egiment.
